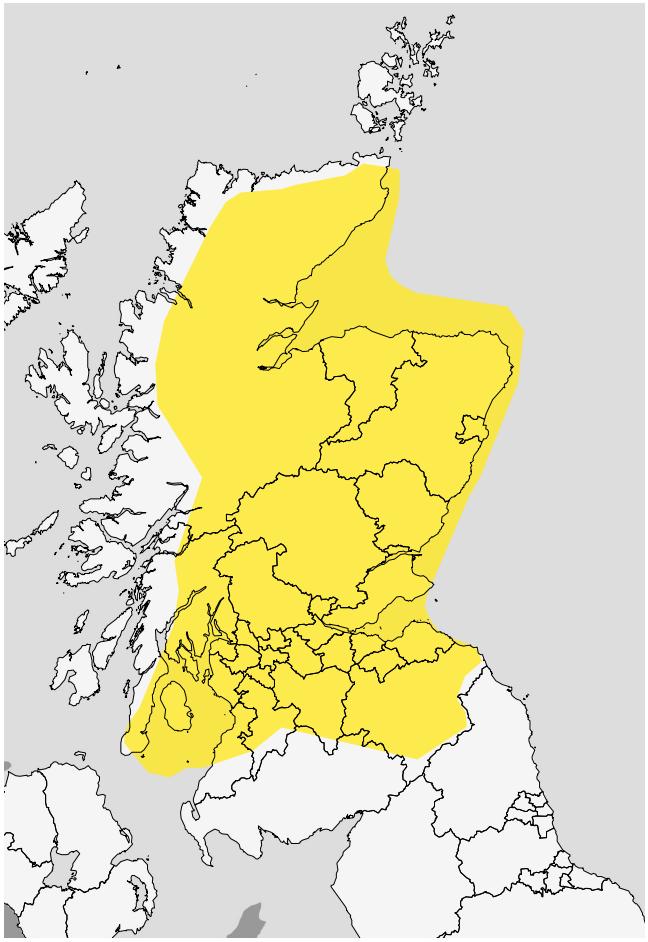
Yellow warning
Snow

Between
00:00 Fri 5 Feb 2021 and
12:00 Sun 7 Feb 2021



Prolonged periods of snow and snow showers could bring significant disruption.

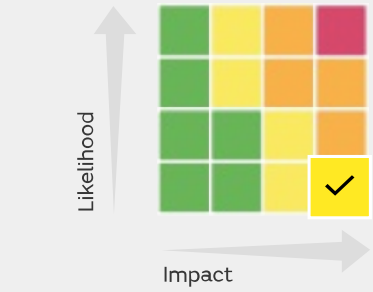
What to expect

- Power cuts may occur and other services, such as mobile phone coverage, may be affected
- There is a small chance that long delays and cancellations on bus, rail and air travel could occur
- There is a small chance that communities could be cut off for several days
- There is a small chance that long interruptions to power supplies and other services, such as gas, water, telephone and mobile phone coverage, may occur

Further details

An area of heavy rain and snow over Scotland will slowly move south over the weekend, bringing further snow accumulations, firstly over high ground in the north, but increasingly to low levels through Saturday and into Sunday.

A further 20 to 30 cm may fall above 200 m, with 5 to 10, perhaps locally 20 cm falling even to low levels as we move into the weekend. Strong winds could lead to significant drifting of snow and temporary blizzard conditions.



✓ Very low likelihood of high impacts
